

Kevin Lepine

Comedian / Hypnotist

Comedy Star From:

What can you expect when you hire corporate hypnotist, Kevin Lepine, to entertain your group? You can expect non-stop laughter as your friends and co-workers become the stars of a hilarious show. You will see your normally quiet colleagues dance like Elvis ...watch people think napkins are $100 bills...and use their shoes as cell phones! Anything is possible when Kevin Lepine takes to the stage.

Kevin's corporate hypnosis act has been highlighted on A&E and the Travel Channel, and has become the talk of the corporate event world. Night after night, he turns ordinary folks into superstars on stage for conferences, conventions, and trade shows from Las Vegas to New York.

Audience engagement is the key element to Kevin's hypnosis show. The direct involvement of the audience makes his presentation a fun and unique icebreaker at the start of corporate seminars and meetings. The performance can also be tied in easily with themes about leadership, teamwork, and "thinking outside the box".

As a certified hypnotherapist and seasoned comedy entertainer, Kevin is always in complete control of the show. He guarantees his volunteers will have the time of their lives on stage. Kevin's volunteers are always treated with respect and the comedy routines are always kept within limits appropriate for a corporate event. Your coworkers will be proud to be a part of this show...and you will be proud to have it as a part of your corporate function.

"We have never had entertainment for our gala dinner that has gotten such an overwhelming response as Kevin Lepine's hypnosis show. The audience was literally on their feet applauding for the last five minutes of the show." :OpenTask Communications
